Vaughan P. 'Bing' Devine

The appointment last Nov. 14 of 49-year-old Vaughan (Bing) Devine as president of the New York Mets represents a vibrant chapter in the Algeresque baseball story of a hero whose apprenticeship began 27 years ago as a part-time statistician.

As the successor to venerable 72-year-old George M. Weiss, Devine climaxes an administrative career that covered such way stops and bus stops as Johnson City (Tenn.), Decatur (Ill.) and Columbus (Ga.) en route to the major leagues as General Manager of the St. Louis Cardinals at the age of 40 in 1957.

The wiry product of Overland (Mo.), hand-picked by Weiss as his heir-apparent, joined the Mets on Sept. 29, 1964, as "assistant to the president", 43 days after his "resignation" as chief executive officer of the Cardinal front office. ("I was asked to leave," he says with characteristic candor).

Ironically, the club he had assembled as a pre-season favorite to win the National League pennant, and which lagged nine games off the pace at the time of his departure on Aug. 17, completely vindicated him by staging a spectacular stretch run to the flag and maintained its momentum in the World Series with a seven-game triumph over the Yankees.

The achievement earned for him a second consecutive "Major League Executive of the Year" award. The first had been accorded him by a jury of his peers in 1963, after he daringly disected the Cardinal roster with a series of trade maneuvers that brought Curt Flood, Lou Brock, Dick Groat, Bill White and Julian Javier to St. Louis and lifted the Red Birds from sixth place to second. Thus was laid the groundwork for the World Championship of 1964 and the city's first pennant in 18 years.

A hero-worshipping member of the Cardinal's Knothole Gang as a youngster, Devine matriculated at Washington of St. Louis, where he earned letters in baseball and basketball. Between semesters he helped compile statistics in the Cardinal office. In 1939 he advanced to an assistant's role in public relations.

Devine embarked on his administrative career in the St. Louis farm system in 1941 at the age of 24, as Business Manager of Johnson City (Tenn.) in the Class D Appalachian League. During the season he met, courted and won Mary R. Anderson, a local belle. They were married on Oct. 25, 1941.

The following year involved half-season hitches as Business Manager at Fresno (Calif.) and Decatur (Ill.), and 1943 marked the start of a three-year World War II hitch with the Navy Fleet Air Wing in the Pacific. Upon his discharge from the service in 1946, Devine was named General Manager of Columbus (Ga.) On the basis of two straight pennants he was brought back into the St. Louis organization as assistant to president Fred Saigh

George Martin Weiss

"As provided in my contract I am exercising my right to retire from the Mets in an executive capacity. This has already been extended one year beyond my original executive term . . ."
—George M. Weiss, Nov. 14, 1966

Thus did George Martin Weiss, the son of a New Haven grocer, announce his retirement as president of the Mets and climax an illustrious executive career spanning more than half a century in baseball.

The only man ever to win four "Major League Executive of the Year" awards, Weiss achieved the distinction during his 13-year reign as General Manager of the Yankees — a period of unprecedented field and financial prosperity marked by ten American League pennants and seven World Championships.

His appointment as president of the Mets in March of 1961 represented the front office cornerstone on which the revival of National Leauge baseball in New York City was laid, following the West Coast transfers of the Dodgers and Giants in 1958.

Weiss' formal association with baseball began in 1912, as manager ("It was the only way I could make the team") of New Haven High School. Among the outstanding players on this state championship array were Jumpin' Joe Dugan, and Harvard-to-be gridiron immortals Charley Brickley and Eddie Mahan.

As a high school student he organized the Colonial semi-pros, a group culled primarily from his school team. The idea was inspired by the Sunday Blue Law in effect against Organized Baseball, and the club assembled for exhibition games. With major league stars of such magnitude as Ty Cobb and Walter Johnson often augmenting the line-up, the semi-pro team cut sharply into the popularity of the local Eastern League professional club. Several years later they sold the franchise to Weiss for $5,000 — a sum he borrowed from an attorney.

Weiss operated New Haven for ten years—an immensely successful period during which numerous players developed under his direction were sold to the major leagues. He relinquished the club in 1929 to accept the general managership of Baltimore.

Responding to a telephone call from Col. Jacob Ruppert, Weiss joined the Yankee organization in 1932 for what was to develop into a 29-year association and the greatest dynasty in the history of the game—an interim which produced 19 pennants, 15 world titles, and the most flourishing era a baseball club has ever known. Assuming command of the recently purchased Newark Bears, Weiss started what was to become a far-flung minor league empire of 21 teams which nourished the championship appetite of the parent New York club.

Mr. Weiss' position in the Yankee hierarchy was implemented in 1947, when he was appointed General Manager in a dramatic setting on the heels of the final game of the World Series against the then Brooklyn Dodgers. He functioned with extraordinary success in that capacity for 13 years, the last 12 in collaboration with Casey Stengel as a matchless entry. Weiss had brought his one-time Kansas City farm manager back to the major leagues from Oakland of the Pacific Coast League.

Stengel was separated from the Yankees on Oct. 18, 1960, and Weiss followed two weeks later, on Nov. 3. Thanks to the group, headed by Mrs. Joan W. Payson and M. Donald Grant, which sponsored the Mets, the celebrated tandem was re-united in Oct. of 1961, when Weiss named the Ol' Perfessor manager of the new National League club. The master stroke was a major factor in the astonishing popularity of the new-born product of the National League expansion program.

Under the guidance of the shy, sensitive, sentimental and fiercly proud Weiss, the public appeal of the Mets has sky-rocketed from year to year since their orphan status inception. Attendance records have been established each year of their brief existence, climaxed by the 1966 distinction of playing before 1,932,693 fans —the greatest number in New York's National League history.

SCORING RULE CHANGES

Two rules changes for official scorers were adopted this winter.

(1) The official scorer should not credit the batter with a sacrifice bunt when, in the scorer's judgment, the batter was not bunting solely for the purpose of advancing the runner or runners.

(2) If a runner is picked off base and advances to another base in a rundown without the benefit of an error, the runner shall be crediated with a stolen base.

The Manager: Wes Westrum

M. Donald Grant perhaps said it all last Sept. 6, when Wesley Noreen Westrum was reappointed manager of the Mets:

"Wes has justified our every confidence in his ability to bring about immediate improvement in the Mets and develop a field and clubhouse attitude that encourages high promise for the future," said the Chairman of the Board.

By the time Oct. 2 and the end of the season had arrived in a dead heat, Westrum had measured up to every word. He had directed the Mets to their greatest number of victories (66) in history, lifted the club for the first time from last place and held true to his promise by putting an exciting hit-and-run attack into operation.

The mute figures are eloquent testimony to the latter: the stolen base output was increased from 28 to 55. But more than that, his positive approach, supplemented by a gifted eye of observation, enabled the Shea troupe to reduce its frustrating strikeout total from 1,129 to 992 (or almost one per game), while coincidentally raising its team batting average from .221 to .239.

All of which proved that Wes Westrum hit pretty good, too, as a manager. He had a pretty good manager going for him: Casey Stengel.

Westrum's meteoric rise from the Mets' coaching staff to field control was a development of Stengel's dramatic hip fracture on July 25, 1965, that subsequently led to Casey's retirement. Stengel had suffered the crippling accident in a fall following the annual Oldtimer's Dinner. The same evening Casey recommended Westrum for the "interim" position.

After undergoing surgery, Stengel announced his retirement on Aug. 30, acting on medical advice, and Westrum carried on for the balance of the season. Under his stewardship the Mets won 19 and lost 48 the remainder of the year (Stengel's record was 31-64 at the time of his injury. The following Nov. 18 he was officially given the managerial portfolio for 1966.

after the late Bob Hannegan and Saigh acquired control of the Cardinals. The association led to his appointment as General Manager in 1949 of the Triple A affiliate in Rochester.

Devine served for seven years at Rochester, where the late Johnny Keane (1950) and Harry Walker (1953) won International League pennants under his administration, with Walker winning the Little World Series in 1952.

In November of 1955 he returned to the front office of the parent club as the Executive Assistant to General Manager Frank Lane, whom he succeeded on Nov. 12, 1957. Under Devine's 7-year stewardship the Cardinals won 547 games and lost 508.

The Devines own a home in the St. Louis suburb of Ladue and are the parents of three daughters: Mrs. Joanne Schaumburg (24), Janice (18), a freshman at Arizona U., and Jane (12).

BATS: R; THROWS: R; RESIDENCE: St. Louis, Mo.

ACQUIRED: From St. Louis for Al Jackson and Charley Smith, Oct. 20, 1965.

Looked up to as clubhouse leader day he reported to Mets . . . Went into 1967 season 13 hits short of magic 2,000 circle . . . Admittedly disappointed in contribution to Mets, nevertheless led club in RBI (61), tied Ron Hunt's 1963 club record of 28 doubles, and matched all-time Met mark by hitting three two-baggers (against Braves) Apr. 17 . . . Missed eight games from May 14-23 with injured right elbow; four games from July 19-23 with pulled thigh muscle, and was idled from Sept. 20 through end of season after injuring back as he slipped while coming in on ball on Astroturf . . . The NL's MVP in 1964, when he led majors with 119 RBI . . . Second only to Stan Musial among Cardinals in home runs (475 in 22 years vs. 255 in 11 years) . . . Became first Cardinal to hit two homers in a World Series during St. Louis triumph over Yankees in 1964 classic. Won fourth game with grand slam (4-3) to join Chuck Hiller as only National Leaguers with World Series grand slams, and rapped insurance homer in 7-5 final game victory . . . Seven-time All-Star selection and five-time winner of third base Gold Glove award.

Originally pitcher in pro ball, but converted by manager Vedie Himsl in 1950 with Hamilton of Pony League . . . Family clan includes brothers: Clete, now with Braves; Cloyd, one-time Cardinal and Kansas City pitcher now pitcher coach in Yankee system; Ron, 22, in Yankee organization, and Len, 21, in Cardinal system .

BOSCH, Donald John — OF

BORN: July 15, 1942, San Francisco, Cal. HT: 5-10; WT: 160;

BATS: SW; THROWS: R; RESIDENCE: San Francisco.

ACQUIRED: From Pittsburgh with Don Cardwell for Dennis Ribant and Gary Kolb, Dec. 6, 1966.

Key figure in one of Mets' most controversial trades, one-time high school third base phenom comes to Shea with reputation as best centerfielder in minor leagues . . . Past winter played with Aguilas of Dominican League, leading club to pennant and playoff titles. Hit .385 in nine-game playoff against Escogido, which feaured Alou brothers, and saved deciding game with defensive gem. Extremely popular in Dominican Republic ("because they must have thought I was related to Juan Bosch, the country's savior"), where played every game of schedule, despite mid-season leg injury, and suffered from fatigue after 10 straight months of baseball . . . Wife and infant child with him in Santo Domingo until Christmas Holidays . . . All-star centerfielder in first year of Triple A at Columbus last year, when he tied for league lead in assists (16), stole 17 bases in 25 attempts and hit 11 home runs—five left-handed . . . Converted into switch hitter by manager Tom Saffell at Grand Forks in 1962.

Signed by Pittsburgh scout Bob Fontaine after graduation from St. Ignatius (San Francisco) H.S. in 1960, and showed steady improvement at every minor league stop thereafter . . . Led Southern League outfielders in assists with 21 at Asheville in 1965, and voted Columbus' "Player-of-Year" last season . . . Columbus manager Larry Shepard claims can cover as much ground as any centerfielder in baseball.

BRESSOUD, Edward Francis — INF

BORN: May 2, 1932, Los Angeles, Cal. HT: 6-1; WT: 175;

BATS: R; THROWS: R; RESIDENCE: Los Altos, Cal.

ACQUIRED: From Boston for Joe Christopher, Nov. 30, 1965.

Versatile veteran played every infield position last season: nine games at first base; seven at second; 32 at third and 94 at short, in Met bow . . . Third in homers with 10. Five came with two on and a sixth was grand slam off Pittsburgh's Bob Veale at Shea, July 3. It was first Met grand slam since Jim Hickman accomplished feat Aug. 19, 1964, against Vern Law of Pirates, and second in Bressoud's 11-year career . . . In 1966 he led club in triples (5), walks (47) and strikeouts (107) . . . Began major league career with New York Giants in 1956 and went to Houston in National League expansion draft, Oct. 10, 1961. Month later was traded to Red Sox for Don Buddin . . . With Boston he was club MVP in 1962, led all major league shortstops in home runs in 1963 with 20 and was named to American League All Star team in 1964.

Originally signed by Giant scout Evo Pusich in 1950 after graduation from high school, he continued college education in off season and earned degree at UCLA in 1960. Received Master's from San Jose State in 1964 . . . Appointed Director of Student Activities at Awalt H.S., Mountain View, Calif., past winter.

CARDWELL, Donald Eugene — RHP

BORN: Dec. 7, 1935, Winston-Salem, N.C. HT: 6-4; WT: 210;

BATS: R; THROWS: R; RESIDENCE: Winston-Salem.

ACQUIRED: From Pittsburgh with Don Bosch for Dennis Ribant and Gary Kolb, Dec. 6, 1966.

Veteran of ten major league seasons has distinction of being only man in baseball history to pitch no-hitter in first start after being traded. Achieved feat against Cardinals, May 15, 1960, two days after being dealt to Cubs by Phillies . . . Right-hander was traded to Cubs with Ed Bouchee for Cal Neeman and Tony Taylor to Cardinals on Oct. 17, 1962 with Moe Thacker and George Altman for Larry Jackson, Lindy McDaniel and Jim Schaffer; to Pittsburgh on Nov. 19, 1962, with Julio Gotay for Dick Groat and Diomedes Olivio . . . After developing shoulder trouble at end of 1963 campaign, he aggravated ailment in training camp following Spring. Played at Columbus to get arm back in shape and didn't pitch for Pirates until Sept. Bounced back in 1965, with 13-10 record, and 3.19 ERA in 240 innings. Ran off seven straight victories from May 31 to July 6, and six of ten losses were one-run affairs. Pitched one-hitter against Cubs on Oct. 2, with Vic Roznovsky the "spoiler" on fifth inning single . . . Was originally signed by Phillies and broke into pro ball in 1954 with Pulaski, where had Appalachian League — leading ERA of 1.91 . . . One ranking home-run hitters among pitchers, he has accumulated 14 circuit blows in the majors, including five during the 1960 season.

BORN: Aug. 4, 1946, Springfield, Mass. HT: 6-2; WT: 190;

BATS: L; THROWS: R; RESIDENCE: Springfield.

ACQUIRED: Signed by scout Red Fazio, June 19, 1964.

Eastern League All-Star shortstop at Williamsport last season, first full year in organized ball . . . Signed with Mets after graduation from Technical H.S., Springfield, Mass., in June, 1964, and assigned to Cocoa in Florida Rookie League remainder of year . . . Added to Mets' roster for 1965 under first-year rule, but right shoulder separation forced him on disabled list from Apr. 22 to Sept. 1 . . . Got first major league hit off Bob Friend, then of Pirates, Sept. 22, 1965 . . . Starred in baseball, football and basketball in high school and captained each team as senior. Turned down 10 baseball and basketball scholarship offers to sign with Mets . . . Attended American International College one year and now attends North Adams State College in off season.

DAVIS, Herman Thomas "Tommy" — OF

BORN: Mar. 21, 1939, Brooklyn, N.Y. HT: 6-2; WT: 205;

BATS: R; THROWS: R; RESIDENCE: Los Angeles, Cal.

ACQUIRED: From Los Angeles with Derrell Griffith for Ron Hunt and Jim Hickman, Nov. 29, 1966.

Two-time major league batting champion, with back-to-back .346 and .326 in 1962 and 1963, respectively, staged remarkable comeback last year after fracturing ankle in second base slide May 1, 1965, against Giants that threatened to end brilliant career. Astonished doctors by recovering sufficiently to pinch hit in final game of 1965 season, and then played with Dodger Arizona Instructional League team to strengthen ankle. Playing in 100 games last season (.313) he was strong factor in pennant stretch drive with .375 for month of August and .340 for September . . . Appeared in all four games of World Series against Baltimore, going 2 for 8. Both hits in pinch roles (second and fourth games) . . . In 1962 led both leagues in batting, RBI (153) and hits (230) and wound up third in the MVP balloting to Maury Wills and Willie Mays. RBI figure is Dodger record and only Babe Herman, with 241 in 1930, has collected more hits as Dodger . . . Signed out of Boys H.S. (B'klyn) by Al Campanis in 1956 (after impressing Casey Stengel at several Yankee Stadium trials), he won league batting championships at Kokomo (.357) in 1957 and at Spokane (.345) in 1959 . . . Enjoyed most productive afternoon last year against Mets in first game of June 5 doubleheader with 5 for 5.

Also starred in basketball at Boys High, where he was teammate of St. Louis Hawks (NBA) backcourt ace Lenny Wilkens who accepted scholarship to Providence and wanted Davis to join him . . . Worked out in Southern California with group of Mets from area past winter under supervision of Nels Burbrink and Whitey Herzog before reporting to training camp . . . Recently made investment in apartment house units.

DENEHY, William Francis — RHP

BORN: Mar. 31, 1946, Middletown, Conn. HT: 6-3; WT: 200;

BATS: SW; THROWS: R; RESIDENCE: Middletown.

ACQUIRED: Signed by scout Len Zanke, Sept. 5, 1964.

After graduating from Wilson (Middletown, Conn.) H.S., in 1964, assigned to Auburn for pro debut in 1965 and promptly won NY-Penn League All Star recognition with 13-9 record, tying for league lead in victories, and in shutouts, with 3 . . . Advanced to Williamsport last year, he subsequently moved up to Jacksonville and then returned to Williamsport after sparing use due to arm strain . . . Worked in Florida Instructional League winters of 1964 and 1966 . . . Senior high school season of 10-1 key to state title, and also led Middletown American Legion Post to zone championship.

The first Met victory in history was recorded at Pittsburgh, Apr. 23, 1962, by 9-1. It broke a losing streak of nine games.

FISHER, John Howard "Jack" — RHP

BORN: Mar. 4, 1939, Frostburg, Md. HT: 6-2; WT: 212;

BATS: R; THROWS: R; RESIDENCE: Flushing, N.Y.

ACQUIRED: Special draft for $30,000 from San Francisco, Oct. 10, 1963.

Despite his age (28 on Mar. 4, 1967), burly Georgian now ranks as dean of staff in point of service in this, his fourth campaign with Mets. Fittingly, he reached the status with his best Met season behind him as he wound up only Shea pitcher to appear in more than 200 innings (230), his third successive year in that category; carried off club lead in strikeouts (127) and starts (33); shared with Dennis Ribant lead for complete games (10); tied Ribant and Bob Shaw for most victories (11), and was co-leader with Shaw in shutouts, two — both 1-0 September efforts against Houston . . . He didn't achieve his first triumph until May 14 (after four successive setbacks), when 11-4 decision over Giants broke a personal 12-game losing streak dating back to Aug. 21, 1965 . . . The last player to sign in 1966, after training camp opened, he was No. 9 this year . . . Holds club record for starts (36) and innings pitched (254), both established in 1965, when he also matched 1962 record of Roger Craig for most losses: 24 . . . Broke into majors a member of Baltimore's famed "Baby Bird" staff in 1959, and traded to Giants, Dec. 15, 1962, with Billy Hoeft and Jim Coker for Stu Miller, Mike McCormick and John Orsino . . . Figured in first Met victory in history over Sandy Koufax, Aug. 26, 1965, by "saving" 5-2 verdict for Tug McGraw.

Outstanding athlete at Richmond Academy, Augusta, Ga., where he starred in baseball, basketball and football (quarterback and fullback). In final game as senior quarterbacked team that beat team led by NFL-Minnesota Fran Tarkenton, 7-0 . . . Son of retired army officer . . . Works in New York during off season for ABC Freight Co.

GARDNER, Richard Frank "Rob" — LHP

BORN: Dec. 19, 1944, Binghamton, N.Y. HT: 6-2; WT: 175;

BATS: R; THROWS: L; RESIDENCE: Binghamton.

ACQUIRED: First-year draft for $8,000 from Minnesota, Dec. 2, 1963.

After joining Mets Sept. 1, 1965, and appearing in five games, he didn't score first major league victory until May 6, 1966, marking feat with a 2-1 decision over Chicago at Shea . . . Turned in one "save" — hitless four-inning stint in relief of Bob Shaw against Houston on July 26 — to go with four triumphs . . . Pitched Winter ball with Estrellas of Dominican League after season . . . One month after joining Mets in 1965 he pitched first 15 innings of memorable 18-inning scoreless tie with Phillies . . . Drafted by Mets from Minnesota organization after leading Florida State League in strikeouts with 213 in rookie season of 1963 and compiled record of 20-10 with four Met affiliates following two years . . . Lettered in baseball, football (quarterback) and basketball at Binghamton Central H.S.

GROTE, Gerald Wayne — C

BORN: Oct. 6, 1942, San Antonio, Tex. HT: 5-10; WT: 180;

BATS: R; THROWS: R; RESIDENCE: San Antonio.

ACQUIRED: From Oklahoma City for cash and player to be named later Oct. 19, 1965. Tom Parsons went to Houston Nov. 29, 1965 to complete deal.

One of most rewarding Mets' investments, Grote reported unheralded to training camp last year and proceeded to win first-string catching job . . . Enjoyed nine-game batting streak from June 17 through June 25 (9-for-23 - .391) . . . Labeled "Mr. Versatility" by Grady Hatton when latter was managing Oklahoma City in 1965, because of contributions in emergency measures at third and outfield as Oklahoma City won PCL title. Illustrated those assets last year by starting at third base against Cubs in second game of doubleheader Sept. 28 at Shea, and performing there against Giants Aug. 3 . . . Signed by Red Murff for Houston organization in 1962 off Trinity (Tex.) College campus and was regular Houston catcher in second pro season.

Outstanding track star at San Antonio's MacArthur H.S., where he won city cross-country title and was state finalist in mile as senior . . . Now pipe-fitter in off season.

HAMILTON, Jack Edwin — RHP

BORN: Dec. 25, 1938, Burlington, Ia. HT: 6-0; WT: 200;

BATS: R; THROWS: R; RESIDENCE: Morning Sun, Ia.

ACQUIRED: Purchased from Detroit, Oct. 17, 1965.

Labeled "Hairbreath Harry" by press box because of flair for getting in and out of tight spots in relief roles, rubber-armed veteran went from modest success as starter to ace of bull pen in Met debut . . . Set club record for "saves" with 13, although used almost exclusively as starter until June 13 . . . Became virtually household word during a 22-day stretch from June 14 until July 6, when he was credited with eight "saves" in 12 appearances . . . Wound up with dubious club records for walks (88) and wild pitches (18) . . . Responsible for Mets reaching .500 in standings first time in history on Apr. 16, when he beat Atlanta 3-1 on 5-hitter in second game of season . . . Subsequently turned in 1-hit shutout over Cardinals on May 4, Ray Sadecki depriving him of no-hitter with third-inning bunt single . . . Purchased by Mets after leading International League in ERA with Syracuse in 1965 . . . Played last half of current winter season with Caguas in Puerto Rico.

Broke into majors in 1962 with Phillies, and traded to Detroit with Don Demeter for Jim Bunning and Gus Triandos, Dec. 4, 1963 . . . Seven of 11 NL victories with Phillies recorded over Houston . . . Twirled 7-inning no-hitter against Detroit in Florida Instructional League last season . . . Originally Cardinal property after signing upon graduation in 1956 from Morning Sun (Ia.) Consolidated H.S., where he also starred in football and basketball . . . Until past winter had spent part of off season officiating high school basketball in Iowa.

HILLER, Charles Joseph — INF

BORN: Oct. 1, 1935, Johnsburg, Ill. HT: 5-11; WT: 170;

BATS: L; THROWS: R; RESIDENCE: McHenry, Ill.

ACQUIRED: Purchased from San Francisco, May 12, 1965.

Nominated by manager Wes Westrum with Eddie Bressoud as co-heirs to Ron Hunt's second base job, acquisition ironically was product of Hunt injury in 1965. Was purchased as emergency measure after Hunt suffered shoulder separation in base-line collision with Phil Gagliano of Cardinals. Fittingly, he developed into Mets' No. 1 man in an emergency last season, setting club record for pinch hits in one year with 16, that also represented the National League high. Richie Ashburn had set Met mark with 13 in 1962 . . . Hiller hit .348 as the man in the pinch (16 for 46) . . . In each of his two seasons with Mets he has seen action at third and left field besides second base . . . Originally signed by Cleveland organization but picked up by Giants in minor league draft and made it to San Francisco in 1961 . . . Following year played 161 games for pennant-winning Giants and climaxed campaign by becoming first player in National League history to hit World Series grand slam — against Yankees' Marshall Bridges at Yankee Stadium to decide fourth game, 7-3. (Ken Boyer since became only other National Leaguer to accomplish feat . . . Graduate of St. Thomas College (St. Paul), with degree in business administration.

BORN: Apr. 9, 1945, Hugo, Okla. HT: 5-11; WT: 170;

BATS: R; THROWS: R; RESIDENCE: Las Cruces, N.M.

ACQUIRED: First year draft for $8,000 from Pittsburgh, Dec. 2, 1963

Despite the fact that he was not used in a single game after reporting to Pittsburgh's Kingsport (Tenn.) Appalachian Rookie League team following signing out of high school in June, 1963, Mets drafted him on recommendation of scout Red Murff . . . Invited to Mets' camp in Spring of 1964, he made sufficient impression on Casey Stengel to stay with club for six weeks of season before being farmed out to Syracuse . . . Suffered fractured jaw when struck by line drive while pitching for Williamsport late in '65, and after having to have it reset, worked with Florida Instructional League team . . . Twin brother Larry a one-time catcher-pitcher in Pittsburgh organization who played briefly in Met system after being released by Pirates . . . All-State pitcher at Las Cruces (N.M.) H.S., where Murff originally expressed interest in him . . . Called up for active military service at Ft. Bliss, Tex., after first of year.

ACQUIRED: Signed by scout Julian Morgan, July 5, 1962.

Last season achieved stardom predicted for him by Casey Stengel as he won place on major league All-Rookie Team . . . Set club record with 16 stolen bases (in 24 attempts) to erase 1962 mark of 12 by Richie Ashburn and Elio Chacon . . . Second in hits (136 to Ron Hunt's 138), batting (.275 to Hunt's .288) and RBI (57 to Ken Boyer's 61) . . . Sharp improvement traced to winter ball with Caguas in Puerto Rico after 1965 season, when he batted .309 and developed confidence in field . . . Put together 11-game hitting streak (June 16-26) tied by Roy McMillan for best production in that category.

Probably greatest all-around athlete in his high school's history (Mobile County Training). Set state record for tounchdowns in one season with 26 in nine games as halfback in 1960; was 9.7 man in century on track team; and played first, outfield and pitcher on baseball team that lost only one game in three years . . . High school teammate was Tommy Agee of White Sox . . . Went to Alabama A&M (for year and half) on football scholarship, scoring 8 TDs as freshman and 9 as sophomore . . . Received pro football questionnaires from Cleveland Browns and several AFL teams, and attracted baseball scouts representing Cardinals, Red Sox and Cubs, among others, before signing with Mets . . . Wife is cousin of Billy Williams, also product of Mobile County Training H.S.

RYAN, Lynn Nolan — RHP

BORN: Jan. 31, 1947, Refugio, Tex. HT: 6-2; WT: 165;

BATS: R; THROWS: R; RESIDENCE: Alvin, Tex.

ACQUIRED: Signed by scout Red Murff, June 28, 1965.

Regarded as one of finest prospects developed in farm system after less than two full seasons of professional baseball, slender fireballer wasn't selected until fifth round of Class A draw in 1965 June draft. Upon graduating from Alvin (Tex.) H.S., Ryan made pro debut with Marion, Appalachian League, rookie club and struck out 115 in 78 innings . . . Moving up to Greenville of Western Carolinas League in 1966, he continued remarkable strikeout pace, accumulating league-leading total of 272 in 183 innings (with 17-2 record) before advancing to Williamsport in late August and fanning 35 more in 19 innings . . . Among his two defeats at Williamsport was a 2-1 decision to Pawtucket on Sept. 1, during which he struck out 21 in 10 innings . . . Joined Mets Sept. 9 and touched for four first-inning runs against Houston in only start . . . Called up for active military duty at Camp Polk after first of year.

All-State selection as high school senior with record of 20-4, and varsity mark of 42-12. Also lettered in basketball . . . Youngest of six children (brother and four sisters) . . . Father petroleum company supervisor.

ACQUIRED: Signed by scout Hershel Martin, Aug. 20, 1965.

By-passed in free agent draft of June, 1965, Schmelz was signed two months later by Mets . . . Made spectacular professional baseball debut by striking out 18 in Opening Night assignment for Auburn against Jamestown, Apr. 25 last year, and scoring 5-hit, 7-1 victory . . . Was 12-0 at Auburn to warrant promotion to Williamsport. In 191 innings for both clubs he struck out 197 . . . Played with Mets' Florida Instructional League team after signing in 1965, and with Kansas City's Arizona Instructional League team in 1966 as a means of continuing studies at Arizona State . . . Was third baseman at Arizona State until senior year, when coach Bobby Winkles converted him into pitcher. Also played varsity basketball in college . . . Starred in baseball (infield) and basketball at California H.S., Whittier.

BORN: Nov. 17, 1944, Fresno, Cal. HT: 6-1; WT: 195;

BATS: R; THROWS: R; RESIDENCE: Los Angeles, Cal.

ACQUIRED: Signed by scout Neslon Burbrink, Apr. 3, 1966.

Originally selected by Dodgers in free agent draft of June, 1965, Seaver preferred to remain in college at USC. Eligible for the special draft in January, he was selected by Braves and signed to $50,000 bonus contract. However, the Commissioner's office voided the contract, ruling that Seaver was signed after USC had started its college season. The Commissioner then ruled that any other club could bid for his services by matching the Atlanta agreement . . . The Mets, Phillies and Indians submitted bids, with the Mets winning the draw.

Assigned to Triple A level at Jacksonville for his pro debut, Seaver led the International League in starts (32) and set seasonal and single game club strikeout records of 188 and 14, respectively . . . A product of Fresno (Calif.) H.S., where he was a teammate of Dick Selma, he served a Marine Corps hitch after graduation . . . He was All City in baseball and basketball . . . His father, Charles, is a one-time U.S. Walker Cup golfer . . . Completed two-week Marine course, Feb. 15.

One of hardest-throwing pitchers in organization, Selma was victim of "sophomore jinx" last season after spectacular late season major league debut in 1965 . . . Shuttled between Shea and Jacksonville in 1966 and never regained 1965 form after being struck on pitching elbow while batting against Bob Buhl of Phillies, May 30, at Shea . . . Optioned to Jacksonville June 30 and recalled Aug. 18 . . . Played winter ball briefly after 1966 season with Caguas in Puerto Rico . . . Broke into majors with 6-3 victory over Cardinals in St. Louis, Sept. 2, 1965, and followed with club strikeout record of 13 in 10-inning, 1-0 decision over Milwaukee, Sept. 12, at Shea.

Product of Fresno (Calif.) H.S., which also developed Jim Maloney and Dick Ellsworth . . . Signed by Mets after sophomore year at Fresno City College . . . Was voted MVP both years at Fresno City College, leading school to state titles . . . Although he didn't make pro debut until June, 1963, he wound up leading California League in strikeouts with 224 at Salinas . . . Before joining Mets he compiled strikeout total of 491 in 452 innings in farm system.

Regarded as excellent prospect for varsity bull pen, well-poised youngster wasn't picked until 28th round of Class A draw in June draft of 1965. Used only in relief, he jumped from Marion Rookie League team to Auburn before baptismal pro season was completed and proceeded to register 0.00 ERA in 15 innings in NY-Penn League . . . Invited to Mets' camp last Spring, he made deep impression on manager Wes Westrum and justified optimism by giving up only 25 earned runs in 93 innings at Greenville, Williamsport and Jacksonville to warrant promotion to parent roster this year . . . Pitched and played first base at Cleveland H.S., Resada, Calif., and attended Pierce, Grossmont and San Diego State Colleges, earning baseball letters at latter two schools . . . One of the best investments Mets ever made, he won first four starts after reporting from Giants, thereby tying club record for consecutive victories set by Larry Bearnarth (in relief) in 1964 . . . Last season joined Dennis Ribant and Jack Fisher as "winningest right-handers" in Met history by accumulating 11 triumphs (although he totalled 12 with a win in San Francisco uniform) . . . Accounted for his 100th major league triumph on July 18 in second game of a doubleheader against Houston, and stands 105-87 lifetime . . . Broke into majors with Detroit in 1957; traded with Ray Boone, June 15, 1958, to White Sox for Bill Fischer and Tito Francona; traded to Kansas City with Gerry Staley, Wes Covington and Stan Johnson, June 10, 1961, for Ray Herbert, Don Larsen, Andy Carey and Al Pilarcik; traded to Braves with Lou Klimchock, Dec. 15, 1961, for Jose Azcue, Ed Charles and Manny Jiminez; traded to Giants with Bob Hendley and Del Crandall, Dec. 3, 1963, for Billy Hoeft, Ed Bailey, Ernie Bowman and Felipe Alou.

Led American League in percentage (18-6 — .750) in 1959, and split two games with Dodgers in World Series. Victory was 1-0 decision over Sandy Koufax in fifth game before record crowd in Series history: 92,706, in Coliseum . . . Best National League season 1965, when he was 16-9 for Giants, working in 42 games with 2.64 ERA in 235 innings . . . Attended Kimball Union (Meriden, N.H.) H.S., where he also starred in basketball and quarterbacked school to New England championship . . . Pitched and played quarterback at St. Lawrence University . . . Owns cirtus acreage in Jupiter, Fla., where he recently went into fruit gift-packaging business.

Although muscular Shea favorite's 1966 home run production fell off to eight from 19 of 1965 that set club rookie record, he was responsible for same number of RBI (50) while playing one less game . . . Was particularly effective as pinch-hitter with 8 for 19 (.421) including three-run, ninth-inning homer off Bill Henry on Aug. 4 that beat Giants, 8-6 . . . Two pinch homers in 1966 gave him total of four lifetime and most in Met history . . . His 19 rookie homers eclipsed corresponding career totals of Mickey Mantle (13), Stan Musial (10) and Roger Maris (14) . . . Owns first homer any Met ever hit in Astrodome (Aug. 15, 1965), which co-incidentally led to Mets' first victory there, 3-0 . . . First major league hit was pinch circuit shot off Dick Farrell in second at-bat in 1965 . . . Collected 14 homers (one short of league lead) in first season of pro ball, at Williamsport in 1964 . . . Played with Caguas in Puerto Rico past winter.

Signed off Maryland campus after freshman soccer and baseball semesters . . . Outstanding athlete at Sparrows Point (Md.) H.S., where he was member of state championship basketball team, and goalie and captain of soccer team.

McMILLAN, Roy David — INF

BORN: July 17, 1930, Bonham, Tex. HT: 5-11; WT: 165;

BATS: R; THROWS: R; RESIDENCE: Bonham.

One of the most stabilizing Mets' forces, on and off the field, since coming to New York from Milwaukee for Jay Hook and $65,000 on May 8, 1964, veteran shortstop represents inspiring story of dedication and determination. Operated on for shoulder surgery last Sept. 15, and ostensibly at the end of brilliant career, he turned down offer of organizational job confident he could continue playing after punishing program of winter exercising program which would determine whether he had recovered throwing maneuverability . . . Agreed to come to camp on trial basis after drawing unconditional release Oct. 10 . . . Injury occured when he tried to check swing batting against Giants, Aug. 3. Re-injured when virtually ready to resume playing, post-game incident in Pittsburgh, Aug. 11. Exuberant Pirate fan accidentally bumped shoulder while McMillan was heading for Met dressing room.

Among select few major leaguers to attain 2,000-game plateau at shortstop, reaching that total June 19 at Cincinnati (where fittingly he broke into majors). His 2,028 games at short are within 125 of Rabbit Maranville's record of 2,153 and within 190 of Luke Appling's Major League mark of 2,218.

Enjoyed 11-game hitting streak (July 6-20) that tied Cleon Jones for club high in that department . . . Set Met mark for games in one season (157) in 1965 . . . Led NL shortstops in fielding in 1956-57-58-61 and was starting NL shortstop in All-Star games of 1956 and '57 . . . Originally signed by Jack Knott of Cincinnati and got to Reds in 1951 . . . Traded in 1960 to Milwaukee for Joey Jay and Juan Pizarro . . . At Bonham (Tex.) H.S., was varsity quarterback and member of track, basketball and baseball teams . . . Attended Texas A&M one semester . . . Cattle rancher in off season.

Determined to prolong major league career, ex-Yankee World Series hero reported to Mets' Florida Instructional League team after 1966 season to try and develop knuckle ball, and then agreed to accept "invitee" status after drawing unconditional release, last Nov. 23 . . . Had been purchased by Mets from Kansas City, Aug. 6, 1966 . . . Originally signed by Yankees and came up in 1956. Traded with Billy Martin and Woodie Held and Bob Martyn to Kansas City for Ryne Duren, Jim Pisoni and Harry Simpson, June 15, 1957; to Yankees again with Hector Lopez for Johnny Kucks, Tom Sturdivant and Jerry Lumpe, May 26, 1959; to Cleveland Oct. 21, 1964 as part of Pedro Ramos deal; to Kansas City for John O'Donoghue, Apr. 8, 1966 . . . Never reported to Indians last year, holding out until being traded to KC . . . World Series of 1962 setting for finest hour as he won two games from Giants, including deciding seventh game, 1-0. Marked climax of a season in which led American League in wins (23) and innings pitched (299). Following year led A.L. in complete games with 18.

Obtained by Williamport from Tacoma (PCL) farm club of Cubs at winter meetings in 1966, youthful veteran started season with Seattle in PCL after trial in California Angels' training camp, and subsequently traded to Tacoma. Came up to Cubs in late May for about month before before being returned to Tacoma . . . Purchase recommended by Mets' Director of Player Personnel, Bob Scheffing, who was impressed by manner in which he pitched three consecutive complete games, hinting Estrada had overcome elbow trouble which plagued what had been outstanding young career . . . Joined Baltimore in 1960 and broke in by tying for A.L. lead in victories with 18, and earning All-Star rookie team designation . . . Elbow ailment kept him on disabled list most of 1963 and '64 seasons . . . Signed by Baltimore scout Bill Kreuger, and in second pro season (1958) won South Atlantic League strikeout title with 181 at Knoxville . . . Was four-letter (baseball, football, track and basketball) man at Atascadero (Calif.) H.S.

Former Detroit and Cleveland left-hander appeared to have won varsity berth after impressive Spring showing as invited player last year. However, was victim of washed out first week of schedule which forced manager Wes Westrum to trim staff early in order to provide regular pitchers with activity . . . Was going well at Jacksonville until he developed elbow trouble . . . Signed to Detroit bonus for a reported $65,000 in 1958 after compiling 9-1 record with 1.78 ERA at Ohio State to earn All America recognition . . . Traded with pitcher Gordon Seyfried to Cleveland for infielder Bubba Phillips, Nov. 27, 1962 . . . Re-acquired by Detroit via purchase May 19, 1965, after pitching shutouts in two of first three starts for Syracuse . . . Has Bachelor of Science degree in Electrical Engineering from Ohio State.

FREE AGENT DRAFT RULE — A BRIEF SUMMARY: Major League and National Association clubs will meet twice a year for the purpose of drafting free agent player talent . . . Selection of a free agent will entitle a club to the exclusive right of negotiating a contract with that player.

Approximate dates of the draft meetings: Summer (June), and Winter (Jan.).

If a club fails to sign a drafted free agent, its exclusive right to negotiation will expire on a specified date (see below) . . . Such a player then becomes eligible to be selected at a subsequent date in the special phase of the draft.

Date Selected	Rights Expire
Summer Draft	15 days prior to Winter draft
Winter Draft	15 days prior to Summer draft
